

January 2020

To our valued Customers, Suppliers, and Employees

It is my distinct pleasure to welcome you to our updated website, designed to serve as an excellent resource for all things NCSP, in particular—and stainless steel, in general.

This month we commence our fourth year as an independent enterprise. As I reflect on our journey launched in 2016, we are profoundly grateful for the tremendous support of our loyal customers, outstanding suppliers, and dedicated employees. NCSP, LLC is now a well-established name in the U.S. industry and has the financial resources to create maximum value for all stakeholders that interface with our extraordinary company.

Building on the many decades of experience we have in New Castle producing the highest quality and range of specialty stainless steel plate products, we are reminded that every year brings new challenges and opportunities. And we are thankful for the opportunity granted each and every day to earn the support and loyalty of our partners.

Our team wishes all a safe and healthy 2020 filled with good fortune. We embrace the 'roaring twenties' as a new decade in which we continue to achieve our ambitious targets of working together to deliver 'world class' stainless plate products—all with a passion for consistency and a commitment to being easy to do business with.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Michael Stateczny", with a horizontal line extending to the right.

Michael Stateczny
President & CEO